ELWELL MURDER DEVELOPMENTS

be ill at ease and Flynn finally asked him to "come clean." Har is is alleged to have at first denied there was anything else to tell, but Flynn, taking a stab in the dark, asked him "how about New York?"

The start it gave the prisoner showed the detectives they were on the right track. A few minutes later, Harris is alleged to have broken down and told them he would "squeal" on his partner in the Elwell murder because the partner had "double-crossed" him and had cheated him out of the majority of his share of the $5,000 which they were to receive for the crime.

Throughout last evening, the police quizzed Harris in an effort to break down his story. He was asked innumerable questions relative to small details.

Proposal To Kill.

Following is part of the statement of Harris, as made to the police and witnessed by Lieutenant Murray and Detectives Flynn and Howell and signed by the prisoner:

"One night in June, 1920, accompanied by a man named Bill Dunkin, I was in front of the Mills Hotel at Seventh avenue and Thirty-Sixth streets, when a party I knew as Jerry, a chauffer, drove up in a limousine with a woman passenger. Jerry asked us if we would take a ride with the women. We got in the car and drove through Central park. We stopped near the reservoir. The woman's name was Mrs. Fairchild. She said, 'Boys, I've got some real money for you to kill Joseph Elwell.' Then she said she'd meet us at the subway station at Seventy-Seventh street and Broadway.

"We met her the next night as arranged and she laid plans for the murder. This was on the night of June 10, 1920. She gave Dunkin and myself $50 each, after we had promised to meet her the following night. We met her as arranged, June 11, 1920. This time we met in front of the Marie Antoinette hotel. She told Durkin and myself that Elwell would attend some theater that night and that she had someone trailing him to see if he went anywhere else after the theater.

Story of Murder.

"We were to meet her again at the same place at 11:30 p. m. that night. We met her as agreed. We then had a little lunch. She afterwards took us to Harris's home at about 12:45 a. m., June 12. She did not show up until between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. He went upstairs and later came downstairs and sat in an armchair in the parlor. He proceeded to get ready for me on a table. The [illegible] sat in the armchair.

"Durkin pulled out a [illegible] revolver from his pocket and fired one shot. I had a [illegible] in my possession, but it did not [illegible] shooting. The one shot fired by Dunkin killed Mr. Elwell. The limousine was waiting for us at Seventeenth street and Central park. We went out the front door to where the automobile was waiting for us. We rode as far as Broadway and 110th street, where the woman, Mrs. Fairchild, gave Dunkin and myself $450 each. She swore that she would meet us three nights later, at Van Cortlandt street station at 11 p. m. She did not show up. I heard that she had met Dunkin and paid him the balance. I have not met either Mrs. Fairchild or Dunkin since the night of the murder. I do not know where Mrs. Fairchild resides."

Checking Up.

New York, April 7.—The New York police authorities are, today, checking up the alleged confession made in Buffalo by Roy Harris, alias G. B. Leonard, alias C. Carlin, that he and another man named William Dunkin, had murdered Joseph B. Elwell, bridge whist king, in his apartment here, June 11, last year, at the instigation of a "Mrs. Fairchild."

It is expected that a man from the district attorney's office will be sent to Buffalo at once to question Harris. While the man's alleged confession, as telegraphed here, contained many details that only some person intimately connected with the tragedy would know about, the authorities were inclined to be somewhat skeptical.

No "Mrs. Fairchild" has ever figured in the case. In all of the numerous investigations that have been made into the mystery of Elwell's murder—one of the most baffling in the history of crime in New York City—no man by the name of Harris or Dunkin has ever figured. Police believe that if Harris' confession proves to be true it will be found that Mrs. Fairchild is a fictitious name.

Dunkin Released.

Cheshire, Connecticut, April 7.—William Dunkin, sentenced from Bridgeport for theft, in 1919, was released from the state reformatory here, today, having served time at the reformatory since his sentence, thus absolving him any possibility of complicity in the Elwell murder, according to the reformatory authorities.

The transport workers' executive committee will hold an important meeting at 4 o'clock. Meanwhile, according to an announcement by Secretary Williams at noon, it is empowered to undertake a publicity campaign and "ensure preparations for every strike eventuality in case the triple alliance is called out."

that to Great Britain—was made public. Those to France and Italy are understood to be substantially the same, but the state department in giving out the note to the London foreign office explained that the note to Japan contained "additional paragraphs referring to previous correspondence between the two governments." It added that the correspondence with Tokyo "is not made public at this time," but no official explanation was forthcoming.

Asserting that "there could be no valid or effective disposition of the overseas possessions of Germany, now under consideration, without the assent of the United States," Secretary Hughes points out that the treaty of Versailles does not "purport to secure to Japan or to any other nations any right in the overseas possessions of Germany save as an equal right therein should be secured to the United States."

Referring to contentions previously raised that the supreme council at Paris, during the drafting of the treaty of Versailles, agreed to a mandate over Yap for Japan, Mr. Hughes calls attention that President Wilson already had made in the previous meetings of the supreme council on three separate occasions reservations regarding the Pacific island.

Long Conference.

Paris, April 7.—Premier Briand conferred at length with United States Ambassador Wallace, today. The American note on the league of nations mandate is believed to have been discussed by them.

MRS. R. V. RUMMELL EXPIRES AT WHARTON

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN A SUCCESS

Kiwanis Club Gets Behind It as an Organization.

O. H. Carrier, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., this morning announced that the one-day membership drive conducted Tuesday resulted in the addition of 230 new members. Of these 184 were adult memberships and forty-six junior memberships purchased by men to be distributed among boys.

Despite the fact that the goal for the drive was set at 400, Secretary Carrier and J. E. Phillips, chairman of the committee in charge of the drive, expressed themselves as well pleased with the result, because they said it brought in many men who have had no connection with the institution for many years. They consider the drive a big success for this reason.

Fifty solicitors, business and professional men with work, devoted the entire day Tuesday to the campaign. The Kiwanis club as an organization got behind the movement and Dr. James W. McMurray, president of the club, spent the entire day in personal solicitation for new memberships.

NULLIFICATION OF DRY AMENDMENT

Discussed by Judge K. M. Landis in Chicago.

Nullification of the eighteenth amendment by the "deuces and treys of officialdom" and by "crooked doctors and druggists working in cahoots," was charged by Judge K. M. Landis in an address here.

Bureau heads who made a lot of rules that permit soft-drink establishments to sell "real booze," were scored by Judge Landis. It was in this connection that the judge referred to these officials as the "deuces and treys" of officialdom.

Judge Landis declared that the prohibition amendment must be given a fair trial to determine if it is beneficial or not.

"I would say offhand," the judge declared, "that fifty years would be necessary for a fair trial."

THE DUNN BILL BEFORE SENATE

Provides for Reorganization of State Department.

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS TAFT BILL

Measure Introduced in Ohio Senate Providing Tax of Cent a Gallon on Gasolene.

Columbus, April 7 — Debate which started when the bills providing for reorganization of state departments, was taken up by the senate, and that began since was marked by [illegible] opposition of Senator J. F. Burns, Lorain county, Republican, and [illegible] the emergency clause to the measure.

Stating that the bill proper [illegible] pass the Legislature, Senator Burns sought to win sufficient strength to vote to prevent passage of the emergency clause.

He declared that the Legislature is not the final judge as to whether an actual emergency exists and said court decisions forbidding its use [illegible].

To Pass Measure.

Columbus, April 7 — The senate this afternoon is expected to pass the Dunn bill providing for reorganization of state departments. Not more than two, or three, votes are expected to be registered against it as an emergency measure. It will then [illegible] to the senate until the house reconvenes April 18 when it will be messaged to the lower legislative branch for concurrence in senate amendments.

Passage of the Taft bill, providing temporary financial relief for cities by permitting a three-year suspension of the Smith-one-per-cent tax act by vote of the people, is favored by the senate taxation committee. The committee amended the bill so as to prevent suspension of the act unless sixty per cent of the voters favor suspension. The house authorized suspension on a mere majority vote.

Senator Bender, Cuyahoga county, introduced a bill levying a tax of one cent a gallon on gasolene to be collected from retail dealers and paid to the county auditors for highway purposes. It is estimated that the proposed law would raise $1,500,000 annually, to be divided equally between the state and respective counties in which the taxes originate.

A bill, offered by Senator Chatfield, Hamilton county, would permit corporations to borrow money at any rate of interest on loans for more than a year. Due to temporary embarrassment, occasioned by the industrial depression, a number of big Ohio concerns need such a law for purposes of refinancing, according to Senator Chatfield.

Davis Bill Defeated.

By a vote of fifteen to nineteen, the senate defeated the bill by Senator Davis, Butler county, which sought to require physical training in the schools.

Senator Chatfield introduced a bill seeking to empower the state health department to make periodical inspection of public water supplies and to compel correction, if found dangerous. A similar bill, offered by Representative Talley, Delaware, was defeated in the house. The measures were introduced as a result of the recent typhoid fever epidemic at Salem. Bills passed by the senate include:

By Representative Boylan, Summit county, authorizing officials to confiscate vehicles used illegally in transporting liquors. Goes to the governor.

By Representative Davis, Cuyahoga, limiting damage suits against railroads to the county in which the accident occurs, or where the plaintiff resides.

By Senator McCoy, Mahoning, prohibiting persons not members of the American legion from wearing legion buttons.

By Senator Whittemore, Summit, providing that interest from surplus state insurance fund shall be placed to the credit of the state insurance fund.

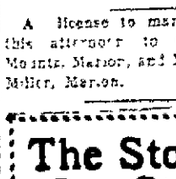
The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

I.—DELAWARE



TO DELAWARE falls the honor of being the first of the original thirteen states. December 7, 1787, it officially adopted the Constitution and thus was made a beginning of our present Federal government. According to the seventh article of the Constitution, however, it was necessary for nine states to ratify it before it actually came into force. So it was not until the following June, by which time eight other states had accepted the Constitution, that the United States of America actually came into being.

The early history of Delaware was a varied one. It started in 1638 when a small party of Swedes settled at the mouth of the Delaware river and called it New Sweden. In 1655, Peter Stuyvesant, the governor of the Dutch colony of New Netherlands, annexed this territory. But it did not long remain Dutch, for in 1664 the English took possession. When Pennsylvania was deeded to William Penn he desired access to the seacoast and at his urgent request Delaware was transferred to Penn's proprietorship. From the beginning of the eighteenth century however Delaware had its separate legislature and at the time of the Revolution it became an independent state.

Delaware is near to the smallest of our states having an area of only 2370 square miles. Its population, or number of inhabitants is limited to three counties. This is arranged according to population, for the state is entitled to the same number of presidential electors as it has members of congress, so the influence of the different states in voting for the President varies from Delaware's three electors to New York's 45.

As to the derivation of the name Delaware, this was given [illegible] the state from the river which [illegible] named after the bay and the river mouth of Delaware which was given [illegible] Lord De La Warr who was governor of the Virginia colony in 1610.

MYSTERY ATTENDS DISAPPEARANCE OF NEW YORK WOMAN

One of the greatest mysteries that the New York police department has been confronted with in years is the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Annette K. Rankine. Several days ago Mrs. Rankine visited the poorer section of the East side, where she was deeply interested in charitable work. On arising at her destination Mrs. Rankine discovered her pocketbook had been stolen. She has not been seen or heard from since that time. Whether Mrs. Rankine has been kidnapped, committed suicide or is a victim of robbers remains a mystery without a clue. Her brother has started a nation-wide search and has employed the aid of private detective agencies and a former secret service agent.

HE'S ALWAYS BLOWING BUBBLES IN THE AIR

But What's That Got To Do with Dandelions?

That weather man always seems to be trying to start something. Sometimes he succeeds, sometimes he does not.

Here's an example. Yesterday he predicted rain for today. Nobody ever saw a prettier morning, a prettier noon day or a prettier mid-afternoon. So you see, the rain man will have to hurry up if he's going to make the weather man's word good today.

Don't need any rain just now, anyhow. Wait for a few days—just let the sunshine in for a spell—and then turn on the rain pipe, Mr. Jupiter Pluvius!

The Star's star weather-observing young reporter observes that there are not as many dandelions in evidence at this time as in years gone by. Wonder why?

FARMERS OPPOSE GROSS SALES TAX

Green Camp Township Bureau Goes on Record.

Opposition to the enactment of a gross sales tax and the repeal of the graduated income tax was voiced by members of the Green Camp Township Farm bureau at their meeting in the township hall Wednesday night. Petitions bearing this sentiment were signed by all the members and are to be forwarded to representatives in congress and Gray Silver, Washington legislative agent of the American Farm Bureau federation. Action was taken after the matter was presented for discussion by Arthur Huberman, legislative agent of the Green Camp farm bureau.

STATE RESTS IN MURDER TRIAL

Accused Georgia Man Is on Witness Stand.

GIVES HISTORY OF FARM OPERATIONS

Owner of Farm on Which Eleven Negroes Are Murdered, According to a Negro.

Clayton, Georgia, April 7.—The state rested its case in the trial of Joan S. Williams on a charge of murdering a negro farm employe, shortly before noon today.

Joan Williams immediately took the stand in his own defense. He testified into a history of his farm and his farming operations in Newton and Baker counties.

At the conclusion of Williams' testimony, brief and rambling, the defense announced it would have no other evidence to offer and immediately rested its case. Attorneys conferred regarding arguments to the jury.

Only two witnesses had been called on the stand when counsel for the state announced they had presented their case. Rena Manning, wife of Clyde Manning, the state's star witness, was first and she corroborated certain parts of her husband's testimony.

Sheriff Johnson, of Newton county, told of events which followed finding of the bodies of three negroes in the Yellow river and despite opposition from the defense, detailed the steps which led to finding of the bodies on the plantation of Williams, in Jasper county. Manning, he said, was correct in every detail he had given prior to the trial.

The bodies were found just where Manning said they would be. He also declared wounds were found on the bodies.

APPROVED AT POLLS BY DETROIT VOTERS

City Is To Own Great Mileage of Car Lines.

Detroit, April 7.—Mayor James Couzens started work to give Detroit the greatest mileage of municipally-owned streetcar lines of any city in the country. By next fall there will be not less than 125 miles in operation, he announced.

No sooner had returns from the municipal election decided that Detroit had approved of the policy of construction adopted in April, 1921, when it voted a $15,000,000 bond issue to build new lines and acquire tracks of the Detroit United Railways, than Couzens began outlining his plans. Steam shovels were put to work on several streets preparatory to laying additional tracks. The mayor announced that it is planned to lay 52 miles of tracks this year.

IN COMMON PLEAS

Sue for $154.25.

Suit for $154.25 was filed in the common pleas court this morning by Charles E. Grant and Clara E. Grant against Henry H. Holverstott and Olive W. Holverstott. The petition was filed through John H. Clark.

The plaintiffs state that March 1, 1917, they purchased from the plaintiffs eighty-five acres of land in Claridon township for $12,750 and that the defendants represented the land was free from all incumbrances and they would defend the premises against all lawful claims. The plaintiffs allege there were fourteen semi-annual installments of $11.02 against the property for taxes and assessments for the construction of the Patton road and say they have been compelled to pay seven of these installments. They ask judgment for the amount paid and the amount still due.

Judgment by Default.

Default judgment was given in the common pleas court this morning in the suit of Robert Storaci against Samuel P. Hall and H. M. Bush. The plaintiff used to release a mechanic's lien which the defendants were in default for answer or demurrer and the clerk was ordered to issue a release of the mechanic's lien.

Judgment for the plaintiff was given in the common pleas court this morning in the cases of Hoke W. Donithen, as receiver of the Brough Oil & Gas company, against J. A. Makemer and C. A. Klunk. Both defendants were in default for answer or demurrer.

In each case the receiver sued for judgment in the sum of $100 for an alleged subscription for ten shares of stock in the company.

MONROE DOCTRINE FOR ENTIRE WORLD

To Be Proclaimed by Administration, Says Senator.

Washington, April 7.—According to Senator Harry S. New of Indiana the Harding administration will find the way out of the world league dilemma by the proclamation of a sort of the Monroe doctrine expediency for the attitude of the United States toward the disturbers of the peace of the world, Senator New said today.

The attitude of the United States is equivalent to a declaration of a new world policy that has its parallel in the Monroe doctrine. The Monroe doctrine related to the countries of this continent. The proposed declaration defines the future attitude of the United States with reference to the preservation of the peace of the world by whomever threatened. It is directed toward the preservation of civilization. It declares no direct menace and countenances none, but it notifies the world that the United States, determining for itself what and when it shall interpose, will stand ready to do its full part for the preservation of world peace wherever and by whomever assailed."

BIG ISSUE BEFORE THE GRAIN GROWERS

Compulsory Pooling Urged by Marketing Committee.

Chicago, April 7.—Compulsory pooling of grain is the big issue of the meeting called for ratification of a national cooperative grain marketing plan worked out by the farmers' grain marketing committee of 17.

Advocates of compulsory pooling stated that one-third of the grain handled by farmers through the proposed national marketing agency be held for pooling. Recommendation of the committee was that pooling should be left optional with each farmer.

Demand for compulsory pooling was also in evidence from representatives of the Wheat Growers' Association of America. Grain growers from 25 states were represented at the conference, which was called by the committee of 17, after more than six months work on a national marketing plan. Of the 107 delegates elected at state meetings 103 were present.

Administrator of Slain Policemen Begins Proceedings.

Michigan City, Ind., April 7.—Dr. Orville W. Simmerman, administrator of the estate of Captain of Police Joseph C. Simmerman, who with Patrolman George Spencer was shot and killed here by William Ristan, filed suit here against Arthur and Minnie Beherens for damages in the sum of $10,000 in connection with the shooting. Judge K. M. Landis Gives a Decision Adverse to Outfielder of New York Giants.

Marion, April 7.—Benny Kauff, outfielder of the New York Giants, was declared ineligible to play in organized baseball, by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball czar, this morning.

Kauff was indicted [illegible] charge of the fact that an indictment is pending against him in New York, on charges of stealing an automobile and of [illegible] to New York stolen. While [illegible] that the mere return of an old indictment does not imply guilt, Judge Landis decided [illegible] there [illegible] between months have elapsed since the indictment was returned and that record does not show that a [illegible] prosecution was attempted after the player's arrest. TO PUT YEAST IN NEXT MELON CROP

Ten Per Cent. Alcoholic Content Expected by Grower.

Burlington, Colo., April 7.—A leading melon grower of this city has contracted to raise one acre of watermelons for each of three real estate dealers in Burlington. Chandler to receive $1 for each melon that equals or exceeds 10 per cent alcoholic content. When the melons are half grown Chandler will plug each melon and insert in the cavity from which the plug comes a special yeast of his own invention. The rind part of the plug will be replaced, covered with grafting wax and sealed in place with adhesive strips. According to Chandler the yeast acts on the natural sugar content of the melon and immediately begins to develop alcohol in the tissues. It also stimulates the growth of the melon to a tremendous degree, he said.

COUNTY SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION IS OPENED

With Many Workers in Attendance from Over County.

REV. J. C. SCHAAF, OF PROSPECT, IS SPEAKER

Deplores Tendency of Present-Day System of Education in Driving God Out.

The two-days session of the Marion County Sunday-school convention opened this morning at 9 30 o'clock in Calvary Evangelical church with representative workers from practically all the Protestant churches of the city and churches of Martel, Waldo, Morral, Green Camp and Arosta. Other delegates are expected to arrive this afternoon for the remainder of the sessions. The convention is in charge of E. H. Long, county president of the association.

The program opened with a song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and was followed by devotional services by Rev. C. L. Allen, pastor of Calvary Evangelical church. "Present-Day Opportunities in Religious Education" was the subject of an address by Rev. J. C. Schaaf, pastor of the Reformed church, Prospect.

Opportunities and Needs.

"It is a more pleasant task to talk about opportunities than needs," the speaker said. "In the one we assume the role of a giver while the other we are a beggar, but it is better to be a beggar at the mercy seat of God than a misspender of the blessings of Almighty God. Really all the saving action in animal or human life starts from need. The soul also has need which when felt starts man into acton through the channels of prayer, confession and conversion.

The speaker deplored the fact that the present-day system of education was driving the training of God out of the schools, colleges and nearly out of the home and giving its place to hugs, biology and book lore.

America prides herself in her great school system where all children are given an opportunity to receive a free education and the day is coming when children will be given a free university training, Rev. Mr. Schaaf said, but the fruit of this system of education is an irreligious people in America. We have been trying to divorce education from all religious influences and we have suffered a great moral loss the speaker declared.

Christ Only Cure.

"Bolshevism offers a cure, politics is trying to work out a cure of its own, the rich and drugs are taking all sorts of cures, but Jesus Christ is the only remedy for the world's trouble. In Him we are complete and this is the name which must be put back in the home and at the head of the government."

Miss Ada Rose Demerest, state Sunday-school worker gave an interesting talk on "The Art of Story Telling" during the morning session. Miss Demerest's talk was most helpful on the way of presenting the lesson in the children's division of the Sunday-school. She advocated the telling of fairy stories, legends and nature myths to little children, here were stories of altruism, true stories of animals and other little people, stories not true but that seem to be to children of junior years.

Story Must Appeal.

The story must appeal to the teller, Miss Demerest said, in order to bring out the enthusiasm and response of the audience. The speaker illustrated her talk with the use of the blackboard.

Following Miss Demerest's talk the following committees were appointed by Mr. Long:

Dr. Jesse Swank, Rev. P. F. Hawes and N. E. Arnell, regular committee; Mrs. Victor Shoots, Mrs. E. J. Hollandshed and Rev. J. D. Green, committee on awards.

A feature of the evening session will be the music furnished by the Men's chorus, of the First United Brethren church. The Men's chorus from Calvary Evangelical church will furnish the music for the Friday evening session. A banquet will be enjoyed this evening at the Busy Bee cafeteria.

Thrift Paint!
The Honest House Paint.

Here is a Paint that will compare favorably with the most expensive ready mixed paint on the market as to quality and is as cheap in price as the common paint sold by irresponsible dealers and the mail order houses, because, you are paying the price for the unreduced Thrift Paint, namely $4.50 per gallon, that is sufficient to allow the manufacturer to use the best quality material, but you are not asked to pay this price for linseed oil as is the case where you buy paint already to apply.

One gallon of Thrift Paint must be thinned with from one to one and one-half gallons of oil, in that way bringing the cost down to as low a level as paint was five years ago.

And you are getting the best material money can buy.

To Gain 10 Pounds

of firm, healthy flesh and fill your body with renewed energy, you should try taking a little Vitamon with each meal. Vitamon supplies your body with that wonderful health-giving nourishment—the vitamines—which is destroyed in the cooking of many everyday foods. If you are thin, underweight, haggard or drawn looking, it is probably because you are not getting enough vitamines, and you will find it well worth while to try this simple test:

First, weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Vitamon—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Vitamon regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Vitamon positively will put on firm flesh and increase energy when taken with every meal, but should not be used by any one who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. Results are absolutely guaranteed or money refunded. Your own druggist has VITAMON in stock or can quickly procure it for you. Be sure to remember the name Vi-TA-MON—there is nothing else like it.—Adv.

Safe Electrical Work

A great deal of unsafe, unsatisfactory electrical work is being done in Marion. We do safe work.

We were the first to advocate inspection. The following letter which we drafted and submitted to council April 4th, 1919, explains our stand:

Marion, Ohio, April 4th, 1919.

To the councilmen of the city of Marion, of Marion County, of the State of Ohio:

The electrical contractors of Marion, Ohio, who have signed this proposal, feel as though it is necessary and important that the city of Marion should have a man appointed by the council of Marion to inspect all electrical wiring, as we feel that it is very necessary that all electrical wiring be done in accordance with the state code, we also recommend that this man who is appointed for this work shall have his office with the fire chief of Marion Ohio, and also recommend that he work under the above named fire chief. We feel that Marion is very much in need of an office of this kind. We, the undersigned electrical contractors, are willing to abide by whatever you deem necessary to insert in this ordinance.

If we do your work you can feel that it is absolutely safe. We guarantee it

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"He does not believe who does not live according to his belief."

North Dakota is making a noise like a state which has overdone the "progressive" business.

If the disarmament proposition were left to the vets, they would probably insist that the Anti-Saloon league take the initiative.

As the days pass, it becomes more and more evident that the league of nations may soon be classed with the other ruins of Europe.

Let us hope that the railroad managers and employes, while seeking to adjust their differences, will reach out occasionally and feel the pulse of the public.

The allies signed a peace treaty which did not receive our approval. Why should we hesitate about signing a peace treaty even though it does not receive theirs?

"If jobs hold out," says the Baltimore Sun, "Marion will soon be a deserted village." Don't you believe it. We are experiencing "a steady, natural growth."

The Mansfield News says: "Marion is thinking of having Billy Sunday come there to save the city." Stuff and nonsense! What we are trying to do is to get him to come here, where he will feel justified in taking a well-deserved rest.

Newspapers from a distance are arriving with greater regularity, but we do not wish to be premature in making claims for the new administration. It may be a case of less mail matter being handled.

The Easter finery bill of the nation is said to have totalled fully $200,000,000, which isn't so much after all, when it is figured that there are 100,000,000 of us. Why, two dollars isn't so much, even for a paragrapher.

Possibly the impelling explanation behind Hobo King Howe's plan to lead an army of the unemployed to Washington is the reported fact that there are already there ten men for each job that is open.

It is warming up so rapidly that if the paragrapher of the Ohio State Journal doesn't soon get it, his customary two weeks at the Waldorf-Astoria at his kind employer's expense, he may be compelled to compromise on two weeks with wife's relations at Cleveland Heights.

CARRIERS OF DISEASE.

Science has demonstrated that two pests are a constant menace to each individual coming into contact with them—rats and flies. Flies, being the most common and by most persons the least feared, are permitted to contaminate food in a way that is dangerous to human health. Premises should be kept clear of rats and other rodents, for not only are they bearers of filth, but they are known to carry the germs of a number of diseases which may be communicated to members of the human family, especially to children.

A great deal has been said in recent years about the fly and the effect it has in spreading disease, especially the ailments that affect the digestive system. Many of the illnesses of children may be traced to milk or other food that has been contaminated by the fly. The campaign against the fly has made progress, but there are still many persons who do not realize the importance of protecting themselves against this pest. They do not give serious thought to the fact that screening against the fly is one of the best investments that can be made for any family, and the fly is permitted to invade the home unmolested.

Now is the time to wage warfare on the fly. Every corner about the premises which may become a breeding place for the fly should be sprinkled with kerosene, unslacked lime or other chemical that will destroy the eggs or render the spot untenable for this incest pest. The first flies which appear about the home should be destroyed, for they are the forerunners of the millions that will swarm later in the season.

WORKING FOR ECONOMY.

The administration has adopted the old maxim that "a penny saved is a penny earned." The administration also recognizes the force of the doctrine preached by Benjamin Franklin, "Beware of the little expenses; a small leak will sink a great ship." In one instance after another the new managers of government business are lopping off expenses and paving the way for an ultimate reduction of taxes. That the reduction can not come at once is evident, for there is a fixed burden of interest charges, there is a floating debt to be paid, and bonds soon coming due to be met. But at every opportunity, small or great, the cabinet is clipping pay rolls and other current expenditures.

Among the first of the retrenchment efforts of the present administration is the removal of government bureaus and commissions from rented to government-owned buildings, thus saving considerable sums spent for rent and increasing efficiency by getting the bureaus closer together where time can be saved and public business expedited. Notwithstanding the large number of office buildings erected by the government, and the large amount of vacant office space in those buildings, some of the government bureaus and commissions have continued to operate in rented offices. The administration is changing this policy as rapidly as possible.

One of the early changes to be made is the removal of the shipping board offices from one of the most centrally-located and expensive business blocks in the heart of the city to the new navy building—said to be one of the largest office buildings in the world. At present the shipping board not only occupies expensive rented quarters in the heart of the city, but part of its work is conducted in a branch office nearly a mile from the main office. Under the new arrangement all the shipping board work will be brought under one roof.

Another change in the interest of both economy and efficiency is the removal of the offices of the international boundary commission from rented quarters to a government building occupied by the coast and geodetic survey. To some extent the work of the boundary commission and the geodetic survey will be coordinated, thus permitting the discontinuance of some offices and the utilization of the geodetic survey's mapping equipment in the work of the boundary commission.

These, by themselves, are small matters, yet they are items in the long list of opportunities for saving public funds by adoption of better business methods—and the present administration is tackling the economy program in a very practical manner.

The Russian soviets have discovered that there is an impassable chasm between theory and practice.

NATIONAL BOOK DAY.

Will you please return that book you borrowed and which the owner is waiting to pass on to another friend?

Do it on April 16, national "Book" day. Thousands upon thousands of books are lost, so far as their use goes, every year. They are books from homes, from public and from circulating libraries, and often failure to return them means that a new one has to be bought.

A book is like nothing else. Its real value lies in the number of times it is read. Yet that use takes nothing from it. No good book should be left lying on a shelf. Return the ones you have borrowed and then lend your own.

It is a good thing for children to grow up surrounded by good books. If you can select the library for your home yourself, do so. If not, get some capable lover of books to do it for you. And then teach the children the joy about books—they are the records of wisdom of human years, of the most precious heritages of our civilization. Do not mutilate them. Do not be careless with them. Borrow them and lend them freely. But be careful that you don't neglect to take them back.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Hall Naylor]

SOVIET RUSSIA.

"Consistency's a jewel."

But there are some persons, seemingly, who regard this jewel as being as unlucky as the opal; at any rate, they seldom display it—if they possess it.

A recent issue of Mr. Henry Ford's paper, the Dearborn Independent, contains two editorials concerning soviet Russia, to which I desire to call attention.

One editorial pertains to the visit a number of Spanish Socialists made to Russia recently, to study the supposedly delectable governmental, industrial, commercial and social conditions to be found there—and to the bitter disillusionment that thus fell to the lot of these communistic Spaniards.

The editor of the Independent confesses that, due to their ardent temperament, Spanish revolutionaries should hesitate at little or nothing to gain their ends; that they should be ready to adopt almost any means to attain their purposes; that nothing should shock their sensibilities; that no cruelties or injustices should halt or hinder them.

And then this editor frankly goes on to state:

But a delegation of Spanish Socialists, recently returned from Moscow to Barcelona, frankly express themselves as "horrified" by the state of things they witnessed in Russia. They visited the country on the invitation of the soviet government, with every expectation of being able to prove to their associates at home that the Russian experiment was such a success as amply to warrant affiliation with the Third Internationale. Instead they found conditions of misery, tyranny and oppression beside which the worst of the evils of that monarchist and "bourgeoisie" rule which they had hitherto so fiercely denounced are the merest child's play.

That's plain enough, isn't it—convincing enough?

When Spanish revolutionaries—hot-blooded and unscrupulous—look with horror on the conditions to be found under soviet rule in Russia, what should the rest of us thing of such a government? Should we trust it? Should we officially recognize it in any way, even? I think not. But what does the editor of the Dearborn Independent think? I don't know; he puzzles me. For he turns from the discussion of the horrors of soviet misrule in Russia—and immediately commends Britain's move in entering into a "trade agreement" with that government.

This editor voluntarily furnishes the evidence to prove that soviet Russia is tricky, treacherous, dishonest, unjust, unprincipled, cruel and merciless; and then immediately praises Britain for making a treaty with such a government.

This editor has about as much consistency as a thimbleful of mercury.

This editor says: "Under the treaty, Britain will in a large measure placate both the radical labor element and the trading class."

Oh, then it isn't a matter of principle—just a matter of expediency!

"For the latter, it insures the first opportunity for profitable trade with a population of more than 100 millions."

"Profitable trade"—with robbers and murderers!

This editor makes me sick at once!

THE WAY OF IT.

"Man wants but little here below," moralized the husband of a lady shopper in the fashion emporium.

"Nor wants that little long," added another observer at new skirts.

CONTRARY HOPES.

"Funny, isn't it, when a man throws his hat into the ring—"

"He wants a square deal."

IMAGINATIVE MISFORTUNE.

"He was a perfect genius for worrying."

"What is he worrying about now?"

"He said he wondered what would become of the clocks were it to strike for an eight-hour day."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

A Jewish girls' club has been organized in Shanghai, China.

In Latin-American countries, as in Spain, it has always been the custom for children to bear the mother's as well as the father's family name.

The women of Lexington, Kentucky, may smoke cigarets on the streets—or a cigar, if they prefer—since a judge of that city has decided they are entitled to all of the rights and privileges of men in that respect.

A survey of the wages of 4,322 women employed in commercial and industrial pursuits in Colorado has disclosed that thirteen per cent. of those employed receive less than $12 a week and that fifty per cent. receive less than $15.

Since she first won success in authorship with "The Leavenworth Case," Anna Katharine Green, now in her seventy-fifth year, has written a total of thirty novels and over 400 short stories, all dealing with mysterious crimes.

Dora de Laredo, a young Jewish writer of London, has the distinction of being the first woman journalist to attend the opening of the British parliament as a reporter of the proceedings in the house of lords.

The project of the New York City clubwomen for the erection of a $5,000,000 clubhouse is all the more wonderful when it is borne in mind that persons still living can remember when such a thing as a regularly organized women's club was unknown.

An unusual honor was that paid Mrs. Phoebe Bennett, of Battle Creek, Michigan, on the recent celebration of her 100th birthday. For many years Mrs. Bennett has been an active worker in the First Methodist church of her city and when she reached the century milestone the church bell was pealed 100 times in honor of the anniversary.

Esther Lee Gould, twenty years old, has established a new record for brilliance as a student at Columbia University. At the next commencement Miss Gould will receive the degree of doctor of philosophy, with its full rights of putting Ph D after her name and being known henceforth as Dr. Gould. This honor comes to her after one year of work instead of the usual three or four.

Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous confederate general, says the women of Georgia will carry their state into the Republican column. Mrs. Longstreet has had considerable practical experience in politics. She was an ardent admirer of President Roosevelt, who appointed her postmistress of Gainesville, a position which she forfeited later by following Colonel Roosevelt into the Bull Moose party.

HERESIES

The International Sunday-School Lesson for April 10 is "Bible Teachings about Health."—1 Corinthians 6:19 20; 9 24-27; Galatians 6:7-8

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

For the current three months the Sunday-schools of the world are studying a series of topical lessons on "Some Social Teachings of the Bible." This second lesson of the course deals with "Bible Teachings About Health." These present comments are planned while the writer lies in a hospital in Porto Rico, looking out upon the palm trees and the blue waters of the Carribean sea, after an operation and an experience which took him to the very gates of the life wherein their is neither pain nor sorrow. So the subject is treated from a somewhat expert and authoritative standpoint. At least, what follows is the fruit of long and quiet musings in a place where everything is attuned to the note of physical suffering.

Naturally, amid such conditions one might be expected to echo the common cry, "Health is the most important thing in the world." On the contrary, I am clear in the conviction that neither the Bible nor human experience supports this popular idea. Instead, there is ample reason for declaring that this modern cult of health, despite all that is right and desirable in it, is one of the greatest heresies of our modern times. Our day has exalted physical well-being and physical sensations into wholly disproportionate importance.

Health is not the first consideration of life, and civilization that makes it so is bound to go the way of body-pampering Rome.

The Caucasus an Idol.

One of the sheet anchors of safety of our western world's democracy is that millions of men and women are soberly thinking about the trend of the times and about things in general. And the common observation of all who give real thought to the symptoms and tendencies of our own day is that people generally are placing too strong an accent upon the body and its sensations. Materialism has the right of way. Pleasures of the senses are engrossing the world. Eating and drinking and seeing and feeling and the general indulging and adorning of the body are the present engrossment to the race. Our day's mood is frankly and rather shamelessly carnal. The pendulum has swung to the limit away from the high heroism of self-sacrifice which it reached during the war.

All this is so obvious that it needs no bill of particulars. A glance at the clothes of the young people, especially of the young women; a peep into the motion picture theaters of even the smallest towns; a scanning of the news columns of the daily papers; a thought of the relative importance of athletics and scholarship in our colleges—in almost every direction one turns, this present mood of materialism is manifest. The body and its appetites is in the saddle today. A large share of the ills of the world root back into sheer carnal-mindedness; and neglect of the scriptural teaching that "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesses."

Worst yet. The land has been seized with a vast vogue of what may be called "health-religions." There are perhaps a dozen creeds and cults today which make healing and physical well-being central to their teachings. They call themselves by more or less metaphysical names but the basis of their appeal is avowedly the betterment of the physical life. The popularity of these body-bettering religions is of profound significance. There are a radical departure from Saint Paul's principle. "I keep my body under."

Sharpening the Soul's Scythe.

This idea that physical well-being is first, which is at the basis of the devastating principle of pacificism, must be met boldly and faced in the spirit and with the teachings of the New Testament.

Of course it goes without saying, that our bodies are the tools with which our personalities work, and therefore should be kept in condition. Care of the body is as important as the sharpening of the farmer's scythe but, after all, the scythe is only the scythe; it is not the farmer. "We have bodies," runs the old saying; to which the wise man retorted "Yes we have bodies but we are souls." Our souls are not the servants of our bodies, but our bodies are the servants of our souls.

Some reader is saying "Does not our Lesson text tell us that our bodies are the temples of the Holy Spirit?" Assuredly; but they are only the temples meant for the ministry of the Divine Inhabitant: they are not the Holy Spirit. The body's place is a secondary place, not a primary one. The real reason, which the Scripture makes clear, for taking care of the body is that it may fulfill its highest spiritual mission. The three passages assigned as the basis of the present lesson are all to the effect that the physical man should be kept subordinate to the soul. That the International Lesson Committee could find no stronger plea for the care of the health is almost sufficient comment upon the Lesson. They seem to say "Keep the body scythe sharp, that it may do the soul's work well."

Who Is at the Helm?

Said a wise Scotch shipmate to me the other day as we talked of books and men, "There seem to be no great books being written these days." Then he went on to explain that he meant books of noble vision; fiction of high idealism works that would live. Instead we have a dreadful torrent of trivial and "smart" and sensual stories and a stage that is salacious beyond belief.

Obviously the reason is that our generation has put the body at the helm of life's ship and one wonders if the spirit is always given even cargo room. Flesh is an unsafe steersman for the shores of time are dotted with the wrecks he has caused.

There is a pregnant word of Scripture which is representative of the teachings of Jesus. "To be carnally minded is death." Jesus was a Good Physician. But he himself never spared his own body, even in the final test of the tree. All his great disciples—the heroes and helpers of humanity—have disdained the claims of physical comfort and ease in order to serve the Master and mankind. What a grilling experience Paul put his body through—and it was a poor body at the best; yet it was the servant of a great soul consumed with a passion for Christ. And Paul was only a forerunner of a great company of missionaries, martyrs and saints who disdained the flesh, for the spirit's sake.

Our day and nation will return to the ideals and practices which made them great only when they substitute for this feeble-minded heresy of body-coddling the sturdy spirituality of the fathers who forsook comfort and ease and prosperity in order to carve out a nation worthier of the souls of free men than any the old world knew. As already said there is not a student of modern tendencies who does not perceive that it is the religion of the spirit that this muddled and troubled time most needs. More than we need sound bodies we need strong souls, striving ever to attain the stature of the Christ who flung his fair young body away for the sake of the salvation of the spirits of mankind.

Remember this when you buy a tractor—Harvester service is a reliable and very important thing you get "thrown in" when you buy the tractor named above. It safeguards your entire outfit—Power, Machine, Hitch! Later on, if you need a tractor part you will get it with the same dispatch and certainty of perfect fit that you have experienced in connection with your binders and mowers.

International 8-16 Kerosene Tractor is built to operate from start to finish on low-priced kerosene (coal oil), or distillate. It does more than simply run on kerosene—it delivers its full-rated horse power or does any kind of work within its capacity on any kind of oil fuel above 39 degrees Baume.

This means that at the present prices of gasolene and kerosene in this locality you will save fully one-half your fuel costs over a tractor of equal horse-power operating on gasolene. Getting down to dollars-and-cents basis, if an International 8-16 is used, you will be able to make a saving of $1,000 on fuel alone in five years of 1,000 hours' work each.

International 8-16 will furnish dependable power in all seasons. For field, road or belt work it can be used day and night if the case demands. It will do this work at the least possible expense. Refrigerators—Like A Wind From the Pole

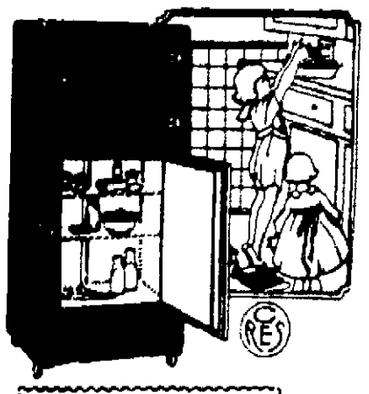
Like a breath from the pole these refrigerators will come to you to keep your food in perfect condition and to save you money on your ice bills. We are showing here most of the popular style refrigerators for the modern home. Our stock includes refrigerators that ice from the front, side and top. We also carry the handy little ice chest for those who desire it. We guarantee all our refrigerators to be high grade in construction—the ones that should be in your kitchen. Be sure to see our refrigerator display.



A Real Ice Saver, $30.75

Here is a real ice saver in a refrigerator. It is of the front icer type and will hold all the food required by a small family. Cabinet of oak with white enameled lining. This design has gained its popularity through its ability to keep food in perfect condition.

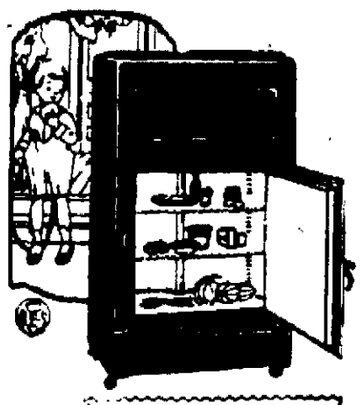
ICE TIPS

Here are a few tips to you users of ice that may assist you in reducing your ice bill this summer.

First and foremost, get a good refrigerator—one that will save ice. A poor refrigerator is an extravagance, no matter how little you pay for it. Buy enough ice to completely fill the ice cabinet, it will cost you less than buying a little every day. Open the door only when absolutely necessary, constant opening takes the chill off the food chambers and causes ice to melt.

For the Small Family, $16.89

This small family-sized refrigerator is built with the same care that characterizes its more expensive brothers. This assures you a refrigerator that will prove absolutely efficient in the saving of ice and preserving of food. Ices from the top. Lining of galvanized iron.



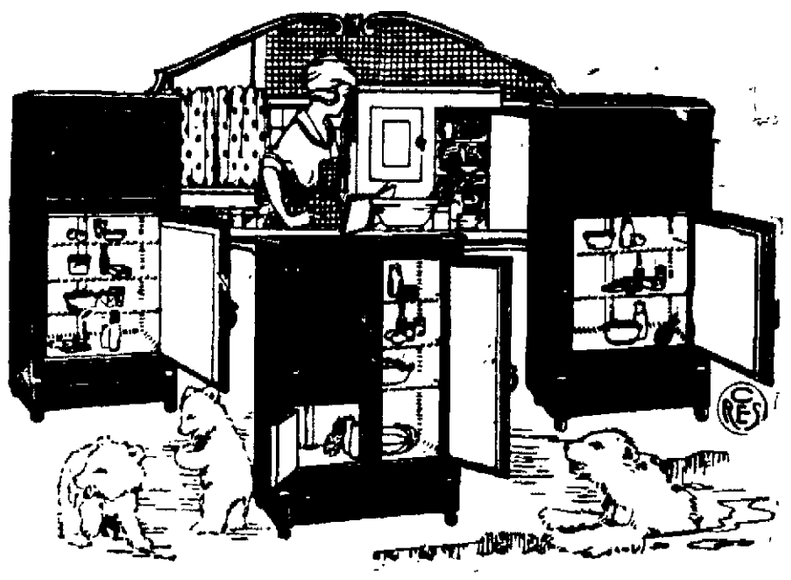
KEEP WELL!

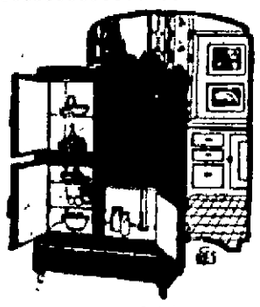
Most of the summer complaints of indigestion or stomach trouble may be traced directly to the old ice box. You may not know it, but while posing as a protector of your food it permits the infiltration of warm air. Throw out this traitor and get a new refrigerator.

DON'T WASTE!

Don't forget the excellent lesson learned during the war—Don't waste! Don't trust to running water to keep your milk—it won't do it. The only thing that will is a good refrigerator. And a good refrigerator will more than pay its cost in food saved.

Three Splendid Styles





Three Door Style $56.25

One of the most popular styles on our floor. Affords ample room for the keeping of food yet does not take up much space. Air circulates perfectly insuring a cold dry temperature at all times. White enameled lining, oak case.

DON'T WAIT!

Don't put off buying a refrigerator just because the weather isn't hot right now. Be prepared. It doesn't take much spoiled food at today's prices to pay the cost of a refrigerator. You need it eventually—play safe and buy now.

Here are three splendid styles in refriger ators which have proven our most popular sellers. They are all well constructed and have our heartiest recommendation.

Front Icing type. Has three shelves for the placing of food. Well insulated and has white enameled interior. Exterior of oak. This refrigerator in your home will insure food properly kept.

A three door box that will prove a saver of both ice and food. Well built and so insulated that no warm air can leak in, thus insuring perfect refrigeration. White enameled lining.

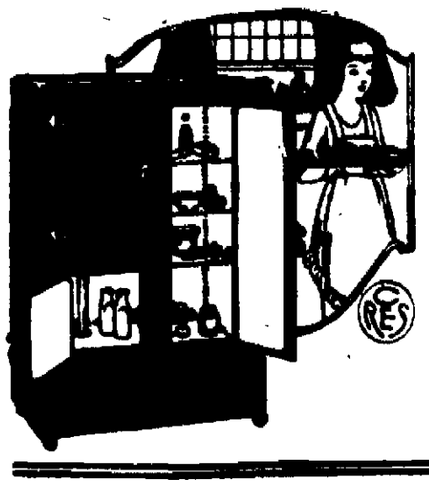
Top Icing type. Preferred by some because of its compactness. Ice chamber holds just enough ice to insure proper low temperature without wasting. Strongly built, a refrigerator that will give years of satisfaction.

Roomy Size A Real Value $33.75

A roomy refrigerator that permits the keeping of all your food in perfect condition. Made in a three door style and has four shelves. Case is made in golden oak with white enameled lining.

SERVICE

We are in a position to give you excellent service on refrigerators bought at once. Not only is our selection of the largest and choicest but we can give you delivery the day after your order is placed. Don't delay about getting that refrigerator you need—buy it now!



A Popular Ice-Saver $50.63

This refrigerator is one of the most popular on our floor. It is a beautiful combination of golden oak and porcelain enamel. Has ample capacity for the average sized household and will make a beautiful box for your home. Considering the fact that the lining is a genuine porcelain enamel and the insulation of ground cork, you can readily realize that this box is a rare value at the price we quote.

For the Large House $73.50

This refrigerator is designed to meet the demands of the large household that desires a box ample enough to meet their needs, economical in ice consumption and beautiful in design at a low price. This box supplies every such demand. It is large and possesses a big ice chamber. The case is of oak and the lining white enameled. It has been years since prices like that. The davenport is upholstered in a good grade of verdure tapestry. Has spring arms, very wide and soft. The back has wings and the loose cushions are filled with hundreds of tiny springs. The construction is as good as can be obtained.

The chair and rocker are very large and comfortable. Both are wing backed.

Folks who are interested in high grade furniture at a remarkably low price will be interested in this.
